

A fifth generation river-town girl with deep roots in both New Albany, IN and Louisville, KY, Elizabeth is a documentarian and graphic designer, currently working on the collections of Dr. Ted and Sarah Steinbock, which include their large collection of Harland Hubbard paintings. In her free time she sketches and paints, specifically flowers, herbs and trees, as well as creating patterns for specialty paper, tiles and textiles. She has a deep appreciation for all things simple and beautiful in the natural world. Ewindischwork@gmail.com
