

John M. Fettig: Currently a resident of Omaha, Nebraska, John was born and raised in Kentucky and attended Hanover College, where he met his wife, June. In the 1970's while John was employed at the college, the Fettigs and their two small children met and became friends of Anna and Harlan Hubbard. Most of Fettig's professional career was with not-for-profit organizations, including several small colleges. Now retired, he was a consultant in fundraising and served as president of the Nebraska chapter of the Association of Fundraising Professionals and chaired the AFP International Task Force on Youth in Philanthropy. He and June are in the area frequently, visiting family and in recent years meeting with friends and organizations who share an interest in the Hubbard legacy.
