

Moseley L Putney, AIA: Mose Putney is a North Carolina born lifelong Louisvillian with family roots that go back to the early 1800's in the Ohio River Valley. After 3 years of university in Maine and Vermont Mose returned to study Architecture at the University of Kentucky followed by professional internship. In 1989 Mose received certification to practice Architecture and has been primarily self-employed until recently when brought into Zyzo Development as the Director of Design and is currently engaged with hotel and mixed-use urban infill projects in Louisville's NuLu and Portland neighborhoods as well as select occasional private residential work. Mose built a vacation home for his mother in 1990 one mile upriver to Payne Hollow on Burkhardt Bottom and visited often with Paul Hassfurder the heir to the land and legacies of Payne Hollow. Despite having never known the Hubbards it's hard to not feel a sense of "family" and supreme respect, reverence perhaps, after spending some time in the Hollow and hearing the stories, reading the books, and getting to know the works and lifestyle of Anna & Harlan.
